EXAMINATION OF CONTENT

1. Since the middle of September 1946, a large number of able-bodied political prisoners have been transferred to the U.S.S.R. from the internment camps in the Brandenburg area.
2. Before they are deported, the prisoners are ordered by the camp commandant to surrender their best clothes and shoes as well as two blankets. They are then given a little encouragement by being told that they might be released.
3. A large proportion of the prisoners in the camps of Oranienburg, Eberswalde, Neuruppin, Mittenwalde, Strausberg, and Dahme have already been deported to Russia.
